'Trump does not see U.S. diplomacy as a debate society'

“川普並不把美國外交視為辯論的場所”

The United States' raid to capture Venezuelan leader Nicolás Maduro shows President Donald Trump is not afraid of conflict to achieve his foreign policy aims across the Americas

美國突襲抓捕委內瑞拉領導人尼古拉斯馬杜羅的行動表明，唐納德川普總統為了實現其在美洲的外交政策目標，並不害怕衝突。

BY TOM O'CONNOR 作者：湯姆·奧康納

MISSION COMPLETE 任務完成

President Donald Trump arrives at the White House on January 4 from his Mar-a-Lago resort, the day after U.S. forces captured Venezuelan President Nicolás Maduro and his wife in a raid on his Caracas compound.

1月4日，美國總統川普從位於海湖莊園的住所抵達白宮。此前一天，美軍突襲了委內瑞拉總統尼古拉斯馬杜羅位於加拉加斯的住所，並逮捕了馬杜羅及其妻子。

WHEN SADDAM HUSSEIN FOUND HIM-self in U.S. custody months earlier, and awe invasion swiftly toppled his government, one FBI agent—by former President George W. Bush—famously cited the Iraqi leader's words: "He just didn't believe Bush."

在薩達姆·侯賽因被美國以「震懾」之名迅速推翻其政權數月後，他被美國的拘留之下。一位聯邦調查局特工——後來被前總統喬治·W·布希稱為「他」——用這位伊拉克領導人的話說：“我根本不相信布希。”

It's hard not to attribute a similar mentality to Venezuelan President Nicolás Maduro, now detained along with his wife, Cilia Flores, at the Metropolitan Correctional Center in Brooklyn, New York City, to face charges of narcotics trafficking and drug trafficking. It follows a daring, roughly two-hour-long December 31 dawn raid by U.S. forces that seized the couple out of their home on the early hours of January 1. Just days earlier, the Venezuelan leader was seen dancing in the streets of Caracas, lauding the mobilization of millions of militia fighters and even reattempting to negotiate a deal with President Donald Trump as the international threats intensified.

很難不將類似的思維模式與委內瑞拉總統尼古拉斯馬杜羅聯繫起來。就在12月31日凌晨，美軍突襲了尼古拉斯馬杜羅及其妻子西莉亞·弗洛雷斯一同被關押在紐約市布魯克林的大都會拘留中心，

'Trump does not see U.S. diplomacy as a debate society'

When asked if he sees the coming year as a time for negotiations or a time for debate, Donald Trump has a simple answer: "I don't see it as a debate society," he says. "I see it as a time for negotiations." This is the message he gave to the foreign ministers of the G-7 last week, and it's the message he gave to the world when he spoke to the United Nations General Assembly earlier this month. "I don't see it as a time for negotiations," he says. "I see it as a time for debate."

Trump's approach to international relations is clear: he wants to negotiate, but he doesn't want to be negotiated with. He wants to be the one who makes the decisions, and he wants to be the one who gets the results. This is why he has been so successful in his political career. He has always been able to get what he wants, and he has always been able to do it his way.

But this is not the case with international relations. In the international arena, there are many other players, and they all have their own interests. It's not just about what Trump wants, it's also about what other countries want. This is why he has been so unsuccessful in his diplomatic efforts. He has tried to negotiate with other countries, but he hasn't been able to get what he wants. This is why he has been so unsuccessful in his diplomatic efforts. and operating frontier-scale models requires sustained availability of high-end GPUs, along with power, cooling, and networking capacity that only a limited number of organizations can assemble.

Strategic investors are expected to play a role beyond capital. Nvidia's involvement ties xAI more closely to the chipmaker's hardware and software ecosystem, while Cisco's participation reflects the growing importance of networking and data center interconnects in large AI deployments.

GROK DEVELOPMENT AND LOOK

xAI continues to position Grok as a conversational AI system differentiated by its integration with xAI's information architecture. The company has said that additional funding will support improvements in model performance, responsiveness, and scaling as usage grows.

Bloomberg has reported that the company could generate around $500 million in revenue in 2025 and approximately $2 billion in 2026, figures reflecting the faster-growing AI startups. Analysts, however, have noted that such projections rely heavily on continued user adoption and successful monetization strategies, particularly in the absence of large government or enterprise contracts that have underpinned revenues for some competitors.
